

LYNN ROBERT WEBB

Lehi Centennial History 1850-1950

To Heber Charles and Harriet Evans Webb came a third son on March 19, 1909, to be christened Lynn Robert Webb. Baptism came eight years later and offices of the Aaronic and Melchizedek Priesthood followed.

On January 14, 1929, he received a call to the Netherlands Mission where he spent thirty months to be honorably released as District President of Amsterdam, July 28, 1931.

School at Brigham Young University and University of Utah Law School filled the next four years, and a diploma of graduation from the former school was received in 1935.

After a year teaching at Lehi High School, he accepted a Seminary teaching assignment with the Latter-day Saint Department of Education at Afton, Wyoming. Later transfers took him to Lyman, Wyoming; and in Utah to Kanab, Heber, Pleasant Grove, and Jordan Seminaries.

June 2, 1937, he married Norma Cranney of Afton, Wyoming, in the Logan Temple. To them three children have been born: Lynn Robert, Jr., Lynda Kay, and Van.

In the Lehi Second Ward he served as Superintendent of Sunday School, Young Men's Mutual President, and was later called to the bishopric to serve with Bishop Cecil L. Ash and W. Clell Jackson. He was elected 4-year Lehi City Councilman on the Democratic ticket and took office in January, 1948. He served in these two capacities until a stroke of misfortune - ill health - made it mandatory to give up these positions.

He also operated a clothing store on State Street for two years during 1848-1950.
